I can't find this any where. What are the typical screw settings for a Dellorto SHA 14 carburator as found on a Polini 910 Carena 6.2 WC engine? I usually ride somewhere between 400 feet <-> 2,000 feet above sea level. And I don't know how many turns out the default setting is. (The manual that came with my bike is worthless.)

To properly seal a Dellorto SHA carb you will need to use a rubber O ring between the intake and the carb. Get a proper O ring that will just fit inside the diameter of the clamp. When mounting the carb, maintain some pressure pressing the carb on the intake while tightening the clamp so the O ring seals well.

Introduction Dellorto SHA carburetors are common, cheap, easy to tune, compact and complete junk. They are made about as cheaply as you can possibly make a operational carb, probably less than half as many parts as are in the carb in your leaf blower, but because of that, they are highly modifiable, robust and easy to work with if you know some of the tricks.
