Without adequate ventilation, even the best greenhouse is going to fail, and your crops will die. In a survival or off-grid scenario, this could leave you hungry for a season. You can use several different tools for greenhouse ventilation. If you live in an area that gets plenty of wind, just opening a window or two can encourage airflow.

How to Make Your Own Greenhouse | reThinkSurvival.com
My Secret Greenhouse of Survival is the culmination of all that time, trial and error, and looking at ways that I could integrate energy savings for heating my home, heating my hot water, and growing food in a greenhouse that would also be sustainable- meet my permaculture mindset, using symbiotic plants, no fertilizer, no pesticide, etc. inside a "closed system".
