Shark vs. Train by Chris Barton, Tom Lichtenheld ... "Shark vs. Train" by Chris Barton is a humorous picture book of a battle between a great white shark and a steam train. The book reveals that there is no obvious winner as a shark is successful in water and sports that involve water, but the train is successful in times when rides are given or when a loud sound or weight is tested.

Shark vs. Train
Shark vs Train by Chris Barton is not known for it's literary genius, but it is a humorous and colorful book that my 4 year old son absolutely loves. I will be honest and say that the side-conversations in the story (those written in idea bubbles) are a bit distracting in my opinion. I would have preferred the story without them.

Shark vs. Train: Chris Barton, Tom Lichtenheld ...
Train describes the playful battle of deciding if a shark or train is better. They are competing in several competitions including high diving (shark), basketball (train), and video games (neither). This book is simultaneously absurd and logical.

With two boys at a toy chest, one clutching a shark and the other a train, thus begins the most unlikelyest of competitions. Who will win—shark or train? Well, it does depend on the situation. If underwater, the shark will surely triumph. But at roasting marshmallows? The train beats the shark's soggy mess every time. From one wacky circumstance to the next, from bowling to hot-air ...
